OFFICIALS OF STANDARD OIL

Visit President Roosevelt and Hold a Conference

ROGER'S STEREOTYPED REPLY

GIVEN IN ANSWER TO QUESTIONS UNDER DISCUSSION

It is Assured That One Subject of Conference
Was the Proposed Investigation of Corporations.

Washington, March 9.—Henry H. Rogers and John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil company left Washington this morning without confiding to the public the matters discussed at their conference with the President last night at the White House. In answer to questions by the newspaper men Rogers gave his stereotyped reply, "Not a word to say."

It is assumed that one of the topics of the conversation was the forthcoming report of the department of commerce and labor on the oil trust. Commissioner Garfield, of the bureau of corporations, has been for months conducting an investigation of the oil business of the country, particularly with reference to alleged violations of the anti-trust laws by the Standard. It is understood that Garfield's inquiry is now about complete and that the President has been made acquainted with much of the information which will be embodied in his report. Another matter which was probably brought up with the oil magnates by the President was the proposed investigation by the interstate commerce commission into the alleged combination of the railroads and the Standard. It is believed that the President wishes to sound Rogers and Archbold as to the attitude they would take with reference to this inquiry, whether they would answer the questions of the commission voluntarily or whether it would be necessary to have an amendment passed by Congress to the joint resolution giving the commission authority to compel testimony.

Senator Aldrich to New York.

New York, March 9.—Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, is here from Washington to be near his daughter, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is ill at her home here.

Gracer For Mayor.

Kansas City, Mo., March 9.—Robert L. Gregory, a wholesale grocery man, of this city, was nominated for mayor over William T. Kemper, a grain dealer, in the Democratic primaries. Mr. Gregory has waged his campaign on a platform favoring cheaper gas and no extension of any franchise without compensation.

Streetcar Strikes Auto.

Marion, Ind., March 9.—Three persons were injured, two seriously, in a collision between an automobile and a street car. The automobile was wrecked and the occupants were thrown to the asphalt pavement twenty feet from the wreck. Mrs. W. C. Reynolds, 53 years old, will probably die.

Green Acquitted.

Washington, March 9.—The jury in the case of ex-Senator George E. Green, of New York, on trial for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of time recording clocks to the postoffice department, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

SULTAN ANSWERS AMERICAN NOTE

Constantinople, March 9.—The Porte has returned a negative answer to the note submitted by the American legation protesting against the increase in custom duties.

PICKED OUT

Young Women With Money, Whom He Betrayed and Robbed Systematically.

Thursday on the charge of betraying, under promise of marriage, Miss Barbara Pollock, of Menominee, Mich. It is alleged he took her to Minneapolis and there deserted her, after taking from her $150 in money which she had.

The officers nabbed McIntyre while he was courting another young woman, who had over $600 in money.

Mrs. I. Farnfield of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, worked up the case against him. She asserts McIntyre carried on a regular business of betraying women with money, and that he has 20 or 30 victims in different parts of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

FATAL SHOOTING OVER OLD FEUD

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 9.—Roswell Marshall, a clerk, shot and killed James Burdick, connected with the Southern Express company, on the street here. The cause is supposed to have been an old disagreement between the two men, who were neighbors. The shooting occurred in the shopping district and created consternation among many persons who were passing at the time.

RACE RIOT

Between Hungarians and Negroes Employed in a Coal Mine.

Diagon, Ill., March 9.—A lively race riot occurred between negroes and Hungarians employed in the coal mine at Zelger, and several combatants on both sides received injuries, but no deaths have been reported. It is said the riot resulted from ill feeling that has been brewing for some time between the two classes over labor differences. Guns, knives, razors and clubs were brought into play, but finally order was restored. It is feared, however, that quiet has been restored only temporarily.

ACCUSED MAID USED HER FISTS

And Violently Attacked Mrs. Eames in Court Room

SAYS LATTER IS PERJURED

WHEN SHE ACCUSED MISS BENCE WITH IMPROPER CONDUCT

Defendant's Attorney Unmercifully
Flays the Millionaire Complainant in His Argument.

Chicago, March 9.—A fist encounter between Mrs. J. H. Eames, defendant in the sensational society divorce case, and Catherine Bence, her former maid, who made startling charges against her mistress and in turn was accused by Mrs. Eames of improper relations with her husband occurred in Judge Gray's court room Thursday, just after the jury retired for luncheon.

Miss Bence, who had threatened to have Mrs. Eames arrested on a charge of perjury, tried to strike her former employer. Bailiff Santa saw the attempted blow, which Mrs. Eames ward off. He stepped in between the two women. Miss Bence's face was red with anger and on being prevented from attacking Mrs. Eames she turned upon the latter's attorney, Robert E. Cantwell.

The attack was followed by the greatest confusion. Judge Gray was leaving the room when it occurred. He turned back and tried to restore order. Miss Bence struggled with the bailiff, who had seized her. Mrs. Eames in the confusion, hurriedly left the court room.

As an outcome of the charges and counter charges, Mrs. Eames was threatened with arrest by Miss Bence, whom she accused of improper relations with her husband, John H. Eames.

"Mrs. Eames will have to 'make good' her charges," said Miss Bence, "or there will be arrest for perjury. She says I got the clothes I now wear after I left her employ. It is false and she knows it."

"That's not all," continued Miss (Continued on Page 8, 5th Col.)

NEITHER SIDE DARE BREAK UP THE CONFERENCE

Two Main Points Are Not Yet Settled
But Will Become Subject to Argument.

Algeciras, Spain, March 9.—Success of the conference on Moroccan reforms cannot be described as absolutely here, since two of the main points in dispute, the allotment of bank capital and control of the police, are not yet settled. Hopes, however, run high that these outstanding difficulties soon will become subject to argument. The French delegates show an inclination to regard the way as opened to an understanding. One of the most prominent delegates, moreover, expressed the view that "matters have proceeded so far that neither side will dare break up the conference." The delegates of the neutral powers generally regard the Austrian police proposal as being not only desirable, but consider that it will serve the purpose of providing a basis for negotiations for an eventual compromise.

GOMPERS AND MITCHELL IN A CONFERENCE

President of American Federation of Labor Promises Organization's Support to Miners.

New York, March 9.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, had an interview with John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America. They discussed the negotiations now pending between the hard and soft coal operators and miners. At the conclusion of the conference, Mr. Gompers said he had promised Mr. Mitchell all the support possible which the American Federation of Labor can afford him. President Gompers came here to confer with the labor leaders concerning the structural iron workers and builders' troubles in this city. He says he does not want to bring about a general strike in the building trades, but that if the other unions support the house-smiths, who are now on strike, and the employers will not give way on the question of the open shop, there is likely to be a general strike.

Harry S. Simon and Franklin Everhart, Americans, were arrested at London and were each remanded in $10,000 bail on charges of conspiracy and obtaining money by means of fraud.

In a mutiny on board the steamer Massachusetts in Brooklyn harbor, James Slocum, a German, was killed.

FROM LAKE TO COAL FIELD

The New Line Will Extend
When Completed

TO PREVENT COMPETITION

IS THE OBJECT OF THE MOST RECENT RAILROAD DEAL

Whereby Pittsburg & Lake Erie, and Pennsylvania Bought a New Road for Millions.

Pittsburg, March 9.—The sale is reported here of the Lake Erie & Pittsburg railway to the joint ownership of the Pennsylvania and Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad companies, which represent the vast Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt interests. The amount involved in the deal is not stated, but is not less than $2,750,000. The information comes from a reliable source and it is further stated that the deal was made in an effort to control the lake traffic from the coal districts and keep any competition out of the field. The Lake Erie & Pittsburg railroad was planned as a double track line from Lorain, Ohio, to Pittsburg, via Youngstown. Afterward entrance was secured to all of the mills of the United States Steel corporation and it was supposed this corporation was to be identified with the construction of the road. Notwithstanding financial difficulties and legal battles over the terminal and rights of way into Lorain, Ohio, the construction of the road was continued.

It is believed that the plan of the new owners is to continue the construction of the line from Lorain to Youngstown, and there connect with the Pittsburg & Lake Erie and thus bring a direct connection into Pittsburg from the new lake port and also give the Pittsburg & Lake Erie a direct entrance into Cleveland, which it has never had. Offers are said to have been made for the line by other roads, but the highest bidder took it, and this was the joint bid of the present companies not in control.

The cost of the new line from Lorain to Youngstown was said at the time the deal was first projected to be estimated at $2,750,000. In Lorain Ramsey's Project.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 9.—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., who is at the head of the new project to build the Lorain & Southern railroad from Lorain to the coal fields of southeastern Ohio, was in Pittsburg arranging for the starting of work on the first section of his road from Lorain to Wellington. Mr. Ramsey said that the report concerning a possible conflict between him and Mr. Gould over the building of this road was untrue. He said he and Mr. Gould were on the most friendly terms and that Mr. Gould was familiar with all the plans he had for his new line and had been for some time.

PROMOTERS ARE TO BLAME FOR PUGILIST'S DEATH

San Francisco, March 9.—The coroner's jury, at the request over the remains of Harry Tennbaum, or "Tenny," who died after a glove contest with Frankie Neil, has rendered the following verdict: "We find that death was caused by blows inflicted in a boxing contest held at Mechanics Pavilion on February 28, 1906, by Frankie Neil, and further that there was a gross negligence on the part of the parties having charge of the contest for not having the contestants examined by a registered physician prior to the exhibition, according to law, and we hereby find said parties responsible for the death of said Harry Tennbaum."

ONE EDITOR SLAYS ANOTHER

Shreveport, La., March 9.—L. Stuckey, editor of the People's Democrat, was shot and killed at Colfax, La., by A. M. Goodwin, editor of the Colfax Chronicle. The cause of the tragedy was the publication of an article by Stuckey reflecting on the character of Goodwin. The shooting occurred on the depot platform. Goodwin fired three shots at Stuckey, killing him almost instantly.

EMPEROR ILL

Eminent Physicians Summoned to the

BLIND FATHER OF VICTIM

Took the Stand Friday in Ben
Dickerson Murder Case

TESTIMONY WAS PATHETIC

COURT ORDERS THAT SCHOOL CHILDREN
SHALL NOT BE ADMITTED

The Rumor That One of the Defendant's
Attorneys Attempted to Bribe a Witness Still Persistent.

(Special to Advocate.)

Coshocton, O., March 9.—The immense crowds in the court room here were deeply affected this morning by the scene which was presented to them when Elijah Thomas, the aged father of Mrs. Hughes, for whose murder Ben Dickerson is being tried in this city, took the stand. Mr. Thomas is very old and infirm and is totally blind. Several times during the morning he broke down and there were few in the court room who were not moved to tears.

In spite of this fact, the defense experienced considerable difficulty in succeeding in their efforts to keep the man from answering damaging questions. The state's attorney would put a question to the old man and as quick as a flash the answer came sharp and clear, though the accused man's attorneys frantically filed objections. Many questions which were damaging to the accused were answered and though stricken out of the testimony, they went to the jurors' ears and had their weight, if not on the jury, at least on the crowd.

Grant Thomas, the murdered woman's brother, was called to the witness stand at 2:30 this afternoon and it is thought that his testimony will be along the same lines as that given by his father. McCoy, the state's star witness, who was to testify today, will probably be placed on the stand Saturday or Monday.

There is still a persistent rumor regarding the bribery story. It is alleged that one of the attorneys for the defense approached a state's witness named Dobson, a young woman, and attempted to bribe her. It is claimed here that all this will be brought out Monday when the state calls Miss Dobson.

The crowd in the court room is still composed of about one third women in spite of the character of some of the testimony given. The court this morning ordered that the room be cleared of children of the school age. This action was taken because of the complaint filed by the school superintendent who claimed that the attendance in the city's schools was greatly affected.

Coshocton, O., March 9.—The attorneys for the defense in the Ben Dickerson case went off on an entirely new track during the closing hour of the afternoon session of court Thursday, when in a single question asked Ellisworth Cunningham, the witness on the stand, they sprung the much hashed over suicide theory in connection with finding the body of Mrs. Simon Hughes.

The witness was asked to minutely describe the finding of the body and the different positions taken by the searchers when their ghastly find was made. After the witness had stated that the body was found on its knees with the neck caught between two saplings and that several persons had approached it closely, Attorney Adams suddenly appended to a question he was then asking, "And did not the general talk among those present include the mention of suicide as the probable cause of death?"

State's counsel were on their feet at once before the witness had an opportunity to make an answer, and the question was stricken out. The defense made its second attack on the now-shrouded evidence just before the witness left the stand. The witness gave a vivid description of the finding of the body and of the different actions of the searchers when the body was discovered.

The cross-questioning led to the finding that many persons had approached the trees and handled them before the arrival of the bloodhounds during the afternoon of the following day.

Cunningham said that he was the first man to see the body and that he came in answer to a woman's scream. (Continued on page 2, 3d col.)

LIVING TOO HASTILY

AMERICAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Chester Curry

one woman in twenty-five but that suffer from some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacements, spinal weakness or disordered organs.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—female trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought on extreme nervousness and despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day by day I improved in health while taking it until I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without any further pain."

—Mrs. Chester Curry, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular periods, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Women as Well as Men

Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discolors and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness, poor complexion, poor digestion, when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs.

The unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling Home of Swamp-Root, all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Answer to Petition.

In the case of George Myers vs. Rita Wilson and others, the plaintiff has filed his answer, waiving assignment of dower by metes and bounds. He says that the real estate described in the petition cannot be set off in severalty to the tenants in common respectively, and must be ordered sold. The plaintiff, as widower of Viola Myers, deceased, waives the assignment of his dower in the interest of Rita Wilson in the real estate, by metes and bounds, and asks to have the same sold free from the dower. He also asks that in the event the commissioners in partition find that the real estate cannot be divided, that they be ordered to appraise the same free from the dower. George Myers says he was 62 years old on the 3rd of last October.

Decree Granted.

In the case of Henrietta Looker against Charles Looker, suit for divorce, the plaintiff was granted a decree on the grounds of wilful absence. Smythe & Smythe, attorneys for the plaintiff.

McManus Divorce Case.

On September 29, 1902, Andrew J. McManus by his attorney, J. R. Fitzgibbon, filed his petition in the Probate court for divorce from his wife, Ida McManus. On January 8, 1903, Mrs. McManus, by her attorney B. G. Smythe filed her answer and cross petition. In her answer she denies all the allegations contained in the petition of the plaintiff. For cross petition she charged her husband with failure to provide extreme cruelty and with being a habitual drunkard. The case was heard Friday afternoon before Judge Brister on the defendant's answer and cross petition. Attorney P. B. Smythe representing the defendant. After the testimony of a number of witnesses had been heard, the court granted the decree for the defendant as prayed for.

Answers Filed.

In the cases of William Davis, Carlton Costello, Edward B. Fraley, William Klug and Fred Neeld against John Robinson, the defendant has filed his answers to the petitions of the plaintiffs in all of which he denies each and every allegation. F. A. Bolton, attorney for the defendant.

Notice of Hearing.

In the case of John B. Woolson vs. Mary A. Davis and others, the defendants have been given notice that the motion filed by them to the second amended petition, will be presented for hearing the next motion day, Charles A. Follett and A. A. Stasel, attorneys for the plaintiff.

FOR OLD PEOPLE

Frank D. Hall Has a Guaranteed Strength Creator.

Mr. Frank D. Hall, our well-known druggist, says "hundreds of old people right here in Newark need just such a strength-maker and body-builder as our delicious cod liver oil preparation Vinol, and we simply cannot understand why they will continue to drag out a half-dead and half-alive existence, when we guarantee Vinol will strengthen and invigorate every organ in the body, stop the natural decline and make them well, strong and active."

This is because Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the strength-creating and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Vinol creates renewed vitality in the most natural manner, making rich, red blood, and building up and strengthening every organ in the body to do its work as nature intended. Many old people have written that they would not take $1000 for the good Vinol has done them.

In the strongest manner we endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run-down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, or return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it." Frank D. Hall, Druggist.

BLIND FATHER

Witness referred to the footprints by the hole, which he stated he did not observe until some time after appearing on the scene.

Judge Eason stated in court that he spent all of the night Thursday looking over authorities on the footprint question and was not yet ready to state just how much of the testimony on this subject would be admitted.

Cunningham was asked regarding the strong man spoken of by Coroner Lear as the man who, unaided, pulled the saplings apart and inserted his head in the opening while the body was still in the tree. Witness did not remember the strong man and did not see anybody place his head in the aperture between the saplings before the body was removed.

The witness is subpoenaed by the defense as are most of the witnesses for the state.

Shortly after court opened Thursday morning the attorneys on both sides opened up a rapid fire of argument in a controversy over whether or not certain testimony from James B. Trego, the witness on the stand, concerning the alleged assault on Mrs. Simon Hughes, which, it is stated, occurred two years ago, should be admitted as evidence.

The court finally decided to admit such testimony as could be derived from any conversation the witness had held with the accused, after the time when he said Mrs. Simon Hughes came to him in his official capacity as justice of Washington township, seeking "law" for an assault on her by Ben Dickerson.

Witness said that at the time Mrs. Hughes came to him it was a general rumor that she had been assaulted by Ben Dickerson near the old barn on his property. It was from this, evidently, that the state hoped to trace a smoldering hatred which later developed into a malicious murder. During the parring of questions by opposing counsel, while the state was seeking to draw out information from the witness concerning the alleged assault, the action of the attorneys in going directly to the judge's bench with their troubles on three separate occasions, evidently amused the prisoner at the bar and for the first time during the tedious hours of the trial his eyes twinkled, then the sallow features relaxed and the prisoner was smiling.

Judge Eason now has a mass of objections, and exceptions on hand, which when taken into consideration will mean the recalling to the stand of practically every witness thus far examined. The trial goes on very slowly and a month's time will doubtless be consumed before the argument stage is reached.

As yet no really direct evidence fixing the crime on any one or even fixing the fact that a crime was committed, has been submitted to the jury.

Crushed to Death.

Bridgeport, O., March 9.—Joseph Leska, a miner, exposed himself under a rock and was crushed to death at Wheeling Creek.

Fatal Dose.

Perthmouth, O., March 9.—Mrs. Frank Morrison, who swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid with suicidal intent, is dead.

Tooth Extracted; Dies.

Niles, O., March 9.—Richard Smith, 60, a railroad man, is dead as the result of having a tooth extracted a few days ago.

Roosevelt's Order.

Washington, March 9.—A crusade against the spread of tuberculosis among the employees of the government service in Washington was directed by President Roosevelt, who issued an order to the heads of all departments giving them explicit instructions as to their duties in combating the disease.

Embezzlement Charged.

Casper, Wyo., March 9.—W. A. Brothers, government disbursing agent for the Pathfinder reservoir project, with headquarters at Casper, was arrested today on a charge of embezzlement of government funds to the amount of $5000.

Tangle in the House.

Washington, March 9.—The house passed the Indian appropriation bill, carrying $7,755,328. It then proceeded to tangle itself up over the bill to abolish the grade of lieutenant general in the army. The result was an adjournment for lack of a quorum, after members had been locked in the hall for half an hour and the assistant sergeant at arms had been scurrying to the various hotels in search of members. The vote to consider the bill showed an overwhelming sentiment in its favor, and as it is the pending business under call of committees, it will probably be reached and passed in due course.

TREASURER'S ADMISSION

Checks Drawn For Cash on Hand to Evade Taxation.

POLICY OF A LIFE COMPANY

Interesting Testimony Offered in the Suit of the Hamilton County Treasurer Against the Union Central. Miscellaneous Intelligence of the Big Buckeye State.

Cincinnati, O., March 9.—According to the testimony of Jesse R. Clark, treasurer of the Union Central Life Insurance company, in the suit of the county treasurer to recover $175,000 in unpaid taxes, checks for cash amounting to $700,000 were written but never taken from office of the company, as a means of evading taxes. This testimony was given after a long argument by the attorneys against and for its admission. The attorney for the company offered to confess judgment for taxes on $700,000, the amount said to have been covered by unused checks and sought to keep from the record any statement by Treasurer Clark on the matter. However, it was finally decided to submit all the facts to the court, and the statement of Mr. Clark followed. He said that when tax time approached the company had immense amounts of cash in the banks which were taxable as cash, but that all possible were transferred into mortgage loans which were untaxable. Agents were notified to place all such money possible and checks were drawn for the amount of cash on hand, the money being at once credited to the mortgage loan account and being considered untaxable. Mr. Clark held that this was a perfectly legitimate transaction, as the money was out of immediate reach. The rest of the case will be submitted on an agreed statement of the fact and on briefs.

Motorman Killed.

Toledo, O., March 9.—L. H. Williams, motorman of a Summit street car, was instantly killed in a collision with a terminal freight train at the terminal crossing. The train struck the car and smashed it into splinters. The locomotive, tender and three cars loaded with coal were piled in a heap. There were no passengers on the car and the trainmen escaped unhurt. Williams was buried beneath the wreckage.

State Scores a Point.

Coshocton, March 9.—The state secured the admission of evidence in the Dickerson murder trial, showing that about two years ago Mrs. Hughes had gone to Squire Trego to consult him about a peace bond against the accused man, who, she complained, threatened her life. The state claims that this gives a motive in malice, anger and revenge for murder.

Was An Ohio Girl.

Cincinnati, O., March 9.—Mrs. Ethel Geachy Brown, whose dead body was taken from the Seine near Paris, was a native of Fayetteville, O., from which place she moved with her parents 20 years ago to some unknown place. The identification was made through a clew found in this city.

Skull Crushed.

Lancaster, O., March 9.—Edward L. Factor, 40, employed as baker, was caught in a bread mixer. His right hand was torn off and his skull was fractured at the base of the brain. He was fatally injured.

Crushed to Death.

Bridgeport, O., March 9.—Joseph Leska, a miner, exposed himself under a rock and was crushed to death at Wheeling Creek.

Fatal Dose.

Perthmouth, O., March 9.—Mrs. Frank Morrison, who swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid with suicidal intent, is dead.

Tooth Extracted; Dies.

Niles, O., March 9.—Richard Smith, 60, a railroad man, is dead as the result of having a tooth extracted a few days ago.

Roosevelt's Order.

Washington, March 9.—A crusade against the spread of tuberculosis among the employees of the government service in Washington was directed by President Roosevelt, who issued an order to the heads of all departments giving them explicit instructions as to their duties in combating the disease.

Embezzlement Charged.

Casper, Wyo., March 9.—W. A. Brothers, government disbursing agent for the Pathfinder reservoir project, with headquarters at Casper, was arrested today on a charge of embezzlement of government funds to the amount of $5000.

Tangle in the House.

Washington, March 9.—The house passed the Indian appropriation bill, carrying $7,755,328. It then proceeded to tangle itself up over the bill to abolish the grade of lieutenant general in the army. The result was an adjournment for lack of a quorum, after members had been locked in the hall for half an hour and the assistant sergeant at arms had been scurrying to the various hotels in search of members. The vote to consider the bill showed an overwhelming sentiment in its favor, and as it is the pending business under call of committees, it will probably be reached and passed in due course.

HARTFORD M. E. CHURCH

To Hold Quarterly Conference Saturday and Sunday—Other Items of Interest.

Croton, O., March 9.—The Hartford Methodist Episcopal church next Saturday and Sunday, will hold the second quarterly conference of this charge. Dr. A. H. Norcross, presiding elder, will preach and hold quarterly conference Saturday at 2 p. m. At 2 o'clock p. m. on Sunday he will preach again and administer sacrament of the Lord's supper. A full attendance of the officary is requested at the conference, Saturday afternoon. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Mesdames W. B. Willison, S. B. Mrs. John Mitchell received word from Iowa that her brother, Henry Wilson, died March 2, aged 89 years.

Frank Case and family will move to Columbus in the near future. We hate to see any of the members of the Croton band leave, but it can not be helped, so much joy to you Frank in your new home.

Wanted in West Virginia.

New York, March 9.—Charles A. Henderson, former vice president of the defunct International Mercantile agency, was arrested on extradition papers issued in Wheeling, W. Va., and Albany, N. Y. Three indictments have been found by the grand jury in Wheeling against Henderson. The complainant is William P. Hubbard, of West Virginia. Hubbard's charge is that Henderson swindled him in the sale of a large block of the International Mercantile agency's stock.

Domestic Tragedy.

Sour Lake, Texas, March 9.—Robert S. Farmer, manager of the Springs hotel, shot and killed W. P. Murphy, his brother-in-law, a man who it is alleged had sent him word he was coming from Beaumont to kill him. In a domestic quarrel recently Farmer took the part of Mrs. Murphy. When Murphy appeared Farmer was discussing the matter with county officials and as the man approached Farmer opened fire at close range with a shotgun, killing Murphy almost instantly.

No. 6

We Cure Where Others Fail

There are 200 Rexall remedies, "one for each ill," manufactured by the United Drug Company of Boston, whom we represent in this place.

No one Rexall remedy is a "cure-all." It is not necessary for us to invent diseases and symptoms and then endeavor to convince you that one Rexall remedy will cure you of every ailment in the world. To our minds that has been one of the fundamental errors of patent medicine manufacturers, and that has been corrected by the Rexall people. One remedy for each ill, and that remedy the unquestioned best in the world, is the principle upon which Rexall success is founded.

We are proud of our connection with Rexall. We are proud to be able to offer to the people of this community a line of remedies that we back up with every bit of reputation we have earned by square dealing and honest, conscientious treatment of our trade.

Our confidence in Rexall is shown by the fact that we absolutely guarantee every Rexall remedy we sell. This is not an empty phrase with us, we mean just what we say. If you buy a Rexall remedy and are not entirely satisfied with it, all you need to do is to bring the empty bottle or package back to us and say "I was not satisfied, please give me my money," and we will return the money to you instantly and cheerfully.

We feel that you are conferring an obligation upon us when you do this. We want to know every case that the Rexall remedies fail to cure. We want you to get your money back if the remedy has not done the work you expected it to do.

Can any principle of business be fairer than this? Is it not thoroughly in accord with President Roosevelt's doctrine of the square deal for every man?

Good Blood

Good blood, good health; bad blood, bad health; there you have it. Why not help nature just a little and change the bad to the good? Bad blood to good blood; poor blood to rich blood! Ask your doctor how this applies to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and how it applies to you! Could anything be more fair?

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

WEDDINGS.

ARTHUR PHILLIPS. The wedding of Miss Bertha Phillips and Lewis Arthur which was solemnized Wednesday evening was a very pretty home affair. The marriage was performed by Rev. J. K. Argo at the residence of the bride and groom on Lexington avenue. The bride was gown in a dress of grey crepe de chine over silk and was unattended.

A wedding supper was served to the guests assembled after the ceremony. The relatives and a few friends of the bride and groom were present. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Phillips of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Phillips of Philadelphia, Miss Jessie and John Phillips of Newark.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Phillips of Newark. For the past five years Mrs. Arthur has been employed in the Smith art studio and has a large number of friends both in this and in her home city.

The groom is employed at the J. E. Owens pottery and also has a great many friends who will wish for him and his bride all the joy and blessings of a happy married life.—Zanesville Courier.

HITCHCOCK-STOWE. At high noon Tuesday Mr. Thomas E. Hitchcock and Miss Sadie Stowe were married. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. C. Sparks at his residence on North Fifth street. The couple were attended by Mrs. Amanda Hitchcock, mother of the groom, Miss Isabelle Gratton and Mr. George Harner, intimate friends of the bride and groom. The many friends of the young people will follow them with best wishes.

Va., March 9.—The special grand jury empanelled to fix the responsibility for the explosion at Detroit mines of the Detroit and Kanawha Coal company, January 18, in which 13 lives were lost, returned indictments for involuntary manslaughter against Mine Superintendent J. E. Miner, Mine Boss R. F. Townsend and the Kanawha Fuel companies. Two true bills were returned in each case. No indictment was returned against Mine Inspector Bonner Hill, whom the coroner's jury also held for involuntary manslaughter.

Colonel Bubbs Lands. Washington, March 9.—One of the most spirited contests for place in the history of the army was settled when Secretary Taft announced that Colonel John W. Bubbs, of the Twelfth Infantry, had been selected to be brigadier general in the United States army to fill a vacancy originally created by the retirement of General Carr. It had been rumored for some time past that a junior officer was to be promoted to the position and it was expected that the promotion would be given to Colonel Bubbs from Pennsylvania and entered the military service as private at the outbreak of the civil war in 1861. He was regularly promoted through the various grades of the army and must retire on account of age in 1907. Colonel Bubbs' promotion will be preceded by the promotion of four lieutenant colonels to the rank of brigadier general conditioned upon their immediate retirement.

Prohibition in the District. Washington, March 9.—The house committee on the District of Columbia decided today unanimously to grant Representative Webber, of Ohio, a hearing on his bill for absolute prohibition of the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia.

Jefferson's Birthday.

An event of interest to Democrats will be the banquet to be held in Columbus April 2, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson. It will be under the auspices of the Ohio Democratic Editorial Association, and Governor Folk will be one of the principal speakers. The association will also take occasion to celebrate the convincing and intelligent work it has done in Ohio campaigns in recent years.

The hiding of John D. Rockefeller now accounted for. It is alleged to have been somewhere figuring out how to save Russia from bankruptcy and at the same time make it pay for itself.

The Ohio delegation in the national house of representatives got together and talked over the question of a primary law and election legislation in this state. They went on record for the general principle of a primary law, but evaded a declaration on changing the form of the law. And it has been but a short time since the junior senator and Republican state chairman gave out a pretty pronouncement in favor of a primary law. All Republicans don't think alike for publication.

General Grosvenor, who has failed a renomination by the Republicans his congressional district, is emphatic in his declaration that he does not want a consular position. This is to be taken as indicating that the general has soured on figures and results of all kinds.

Since the Oregon whipping post for beaters was established nearly a year ago but three men have been punished at the post. Oregon husbands may think better of their wives than they did.

Sheriff's Sale.

On Saturday, March 24 the Sheriff will sell at public sale the real estate building, known as the Laird Machine Works, located on the canal, near the Garber and Vance planing mill.

DIFFICULT TASK TO FORM CABINET

France, is Encountered by President Fallieres—Two Statesmen Decline to Form Ministry.

Paris, March 9.—President Fallieres' efforts to induce one or the other of several statesmen with whom he conferred to undertake the task of forming a cabinet have not yet borne fruit. M. Sarrien, who declined the premiership or a portfolio, suggested M. Bourgeois, whom M. Ducloux, president of the senate, and M. Poincarre, president of the chamber of deputies, also put forward. M. Bourgeois, however, declared that he did not feel physically strong enough to undertake the premiership, but would consent to accept the foreign portfolio. M. Sarrien, whom he thought fitted to take the reins of power, President Fallieres refused to accept the decision of either M. Bourgeois or M. Sarrien as final, but insisted in declaring that they will not undertake the task of the formation of a ministry. It is understood that M. Poincarre will be called to the task and the indications are that a cabinet under his leadership will be acceptable to the advanced Republicans.

SENATOR ROSE CRITICISES OHIO ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Accusing Its Officers of Bad Faith in Attempt to Rid State of Liquor Traffic—Christian Scientists Sustain Defeat in Senate—Bills Passed and Introduced.

Columbus, O., March 9.—By a vote of 23 to 9 the state senate has defeated the vigorous efforts of Christian Scientists to tack to the Stockwell bill an amendment which would exempt the scientists from the application of the laws under which the state medical board operates in its examinations. At present the scientists are not permitted to charge a fee for their treatment, but under the amendment proposed they would be permitted to do so. They made their chief fight upon the contention that there should be no opposition to treatment by no other application than prayer. The Stockwell bill was then passed.

The Stockwell bill as finally passed provides that physicians from other states, coming to Ohio, shall be charged such a fee for examination and registration as Ohio physicians are charged for similar service in their states.

Bills passed by the house: H. B. Mr. Phillips, fixing the standard of weight of a gallon of maple syrup at 231 cubic inches at eleven pounds; H. B. Mr. Shankland, providing that a joint township high school shall be under the control of a high school committee made up of two members from each of the constituent township boards; H. B. Mr. Huey, providing that trustees of a non-sectarian private school may contract with boards of education to receive pupils from public school districts, and authorizing the boards to contribute to the maintenance of the said school and to pay their share of the cost of new buildings; H. B. Mr. Stockwell, providing that the city auditor shall be the auditor of the school fund in all city districts and authorizing boards of education to fix his compensation for the extra work thus imposed; H. B. Mr. Dittmars, providing that village school districts must have a tax valuation of $100,000 as a prerequisite to formation, except that voters in any proposed district having a less valuation vote to dispense with this provision; H. B. Mr. Shankland, providing that questions for teachers' examinations shall be prepared by the state school commissioner and sent under secure seal to the examiners, the seal to be broken in the presence of the candidates for teachers' certificates; H. B. Mr. Spicer, providing that probate courts may divide township funds when a village has been created out of a portion of a township or portions of more than one township; H. H. Mr. Tuck, authorizing the trustees of a township to sell any cemetery in their care to a cemetery association at public or private sale after giving due notice; H. B. Mr. Winters, increasing the age of consent in females from 16 to 18 years; H. B. Mr. Billingslea, to authorize the governor of the state of Ohio to execute a deed for certain lands in Butler county to Carolyn Strode.

The house passed the senate bill of Mr. Harper to provide for the appointment of a commission to accept donations and select and purchase lands for a state institution for the treatment and schooling of crippled and deformed children.

Bills introduced in the senate: Mr. Beatty, providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to purchase a state camp grounds and rifle range at Port Clinton; Mr. Harper, to provide that the premiums on surety bonds of any elected or appointed officer in the state is to be paid out of the general funds of the division of government by which the person was appointed or selected; Mr. Carter, of Wyandot, to provide where a special finding of facts has been returned by a jury, error may be prosecuted to the circuit court, notwithstanding a new trial has been ordered.

In the senate Mr. Rose charged that the leaders of the Anti-Saloon league were not sincere in their effort to rid the state of the liquor traffic, and that they had deceived him in connection with his county local option bill. Further he charged that the Anti-Saloon league officers had played the temperance people of the state false in the fight for the women's suffrage bill; and that they were not ready for the abolition of the liquor traffic in Ohio, which the passage of the women's suffrage bill would have insured. That bill, the senator declared, lacked only four votes of passage. He ridiculed the idea that the league with all of its state power could not have secured those four additional votes, had it been sincere in the desire to rid the state at one swoop of the mooted liquor business. Rose's motion to take his measure from the temperance committee failed, 16 to 12.

JOHNSTOWN NEWS

Activity in Farm Real Estate—Second Quarterly M. E. Conference. A New Gas Well.

Johnstown, O., March 8.—Frank Benner has sold his 50 acre farm in Hartford township to Park Wells, Patton & Carter who had the farm listed closing the deal Tuesday. We understand that Emory Myers has also sold his Hartford township farm to Warner Denty, who recently sold his place to John Crouse.

Second quarterly meeting at the M. E. church next Saturday and Sunday March 10 and 11, with the following as the order of services: Quarterly conference will be held on Saturday evening in the church parlors, preceded by a sermon by Presiding Elder Norcross. On Sunday morning sermon and sacrament of Lord's supper by Dr. Norcross. Everybody invited.

Russell C. Frederick is preparing to build a large warehouse and storage building on his lot east of the O. & C. Railway and opposite the depot.

The gas company holding the lease on the Ed Baker farm east of town, has set a stake for a well thereon and will probably begin drilling soon.

Auditor J. N. Wright, wife and son Dean of Newark, were guests at the B. F. Carter home Monday, coming up to help B. F. and wife celebrate the eighth wedding anniversary.

Homer Green has recently sold his Muskingum county farm at a nice profit we understand and will offer his farming utensils and other personal property on the farm for sale Thursday, March 15th.

Ray Haycock will move back from Centerville to Johnstown and accept a position as barber at the Sherman shop. Tommy Maholin who has been working at the same shop has accepted a place at the Dinsmore-Johnson shop.

Rev. D. C. Kite, pastor of the Baptist church will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening at the usual hours. Everybody cordially invited. The Baptist people hope to have their repainting and remodeling at their own church completed within a very short time.

Few lawyers in Great Britain make over $50,000 a year, but Mr. Moulton, who has just succeeded Lord Justice Mathew, is believed to have given up a practice worth at least twice that much.

Cable to Cuba and Panama. Washington, March 4.—Secretary Shaw submitted to congress an estimate of $927,000 for the construction of a cable from Key West, Fla., to Guantanamo, Cuba, and thence to the Panama canal zone. The estimate was made by General Allen, chief signal officer of the army, who prepared it at the request of Secretary Taft. A note enclosed with General Allen's report states that both army and navy officers believe the cable necessary to American interests.

Johnson Willing. Minneapolis, Minn., March 9.—Governor Johnson, as a member of the Lawson insurance committee, has consented to act with the Stuyvesant Fish committee in the reorganization of the New York Life and Mutual Insurance companies. The governor telegraphed Samuel Untermyer, of New York, counsel for the Fish committee, that he was willing to act in accordance with their plans.

A Live Wire

Every nerve is a live wire connecting some part of the body with the brain. They are so numerous that if you penetrate the skin with the point of a needle you will touch a nerve and receive a shock—pain it is called. Aches and pains come from a pressure, strain or injury to a nerve; the more prominent the nerve the greater the pain. When the pain comes from a large nerve it is called Neuralgia.

whether it be the facial nerves, or the heart, stomach, sciatic or other prominent nerve branch. To stop pain, then, you must relieve the strain or pressure upon the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this.

"I suffered intense pain, caused by neuralgia. I doctored and used various medicines without getting relief until I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They never fail to cure my headaches, and their use never leaves any bad after-effects."

MRS. W. M. BECKMAN, 97 W. 4th St., Erie, Pa. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

AMUSEMENTS

A MESSAGE FROM MARS.

"A Message from Mars" will be the attraction at the Auditorium Saturday matinee and night. Read what the Eastern Free Press, Eastern Pa., Saturday, October 21, 1905, says:

"A Message from Mars" had its second presentation in Easton last night with some members of the original company in the cast, but with David Prior in the part taken by Mr. Hawtree. It is one of the best constructed plays of recent years. It has motive, and its progress has logical and plausible sequence. Its lesson is self-evident and the methods of the Martian who comes from his planet to reform the most selfish man on earth have both force and humor, and his lessons appeal to a human interest. The atmosphere of the company was quite English. David Prior, who took the part of the selfish man, gave a consistent and excellent interpretation of the character, and he was carefully supported by Mr. Hadfield as the Martian, Cyril Young as the tramp, Elizabeth Vaintine as Minnie Tangle, Isidore E. prominent as Aunt Martha, and others of the company.

The merit of the production was

MISS ELIZABETH VALENTINE.

In "A Message from Mars," that it was by no means a one-part piece, for the players wove their parts into an ensemble that gave a realism to the scenes as they were unfolded which gained and held the interest and sympathy of the house. This is the best goal that any company can reach. There was a good house, and we heard no adverse comments, but on the contrary, some said they liked the production as well as that of the Hawtree company two years ago, and some even better.

ant, in "Sis Hopkins," which is now making its seventh tour under the direction of Mr. J. R. Shirling. "Obadiah" carries a tape measure with him and is forever measuring prospective victims and accompanying the process with bits of obituaries, rhyme and tombstone sentiment, which in the manner of presentation becomes gems of rarest comedy. "Obadiah" as a character sketch is second only in popularity and originality to that of "Sis Hopkins," the quaint little Posey county girl with the funny pig tailed hair, originated and played by Miss Rose Melville. At the Auditorium Monday evening.

ALEXANDRIA

An Interesting Letter From the Capital of St. Albans Township. That is Full of News.

Alexandria, March 9.—The recent fire which destroyed the "Old Mud Mill," one mile west of this place, had quite a history. For some time past it had been occupied by Frank Nichols as a barn and stable. The fire is supposed to have been started by children who were playing in it. Mr. Nichols was working near the scene and succeeded in getting out of himself, the farming tools, some hay, corn, harness, a few chickens, etc., being burned. This was once a great resort being one of the first grist mills in the township, probably built about 1820, and patronized by farmers as far west as the county line. "The Old Mud Mill," like many other old relics is no more, except in history.

The directors of the new bank are sparing no pains to have a safe place for depositors to put their money, and there will be no more secure vault and safe in the county. The safe is ordered and will probably be here by the 20th or 25th of this month. It is the Mangano steel safe, guaranteed to be absolutely burglar proof. The vault will be built fire proof, be fitted with safe deposit boxes to be rented at a small amount to customers and will be the first secure place from fire our people have ever had to place their private papers. The new bank expects to take over the banking business April 1, and occupy their own building located on the site of the one that burned as soon as it can be completed. C. B. Buxton has been elected and has accepted the position as cashier for the new bank.

The second quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. Norcross, P. E., will preach and preside at the quarterly conference. On Sunday, March 18th, Dr. Arthur M. Mann of Delaware, former pastor of the M. E. church here, will preach and conduct the communion service.

FIGHTING BEGINS IN PHILIPPINES

Apprehension is Felt That the Native Constabulary Have Mutinied Against Officers.

Manila, March 9.—Reports have reached this city of a desperate battle in Jolo between the American troops and the Moros in which fifty-one Americans were killed and wounded.

The fight is still going on and it is feared that the outbreak will become general and that the natives of Mindanao will join the fanatics.

The Jolo and Zamboanga troops are apprehensive among the army officers that the native constabulary have mutinied. General Wood suppressed an uprising among the native troops last year.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF FIGHT.

Washington, March 9.—Advices received by the war department from Major General Leonard Wood commanding the Philippine division, states that there has been a severe engagement in the island of Jolo between American military and naval forces, and the Moros. Fifteen American soldiers were killed, two or three American sailors and about 600 natives. The dispatch adds:

"Zamboanga, March 9.—Troops, naval detachment, constabulary, Col. Joseph W. Duncan commanding, attacked the Moros fortifications in Crater on Mount Bako near Jolo. The action lasted from the afternoon of March 6 to the morning of March 8. Mount Bako is 2100 feet high, angle 50 degrees, lava ridges and heavy timber. The artillery was lifted by block and tackle 300 feet. The Moros have retreated from this stronghold for the past eight months, and resisted to the death. About 600 were killed. Major General Wood and Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss were present throughout."

It is believed the engagement will bring to a conclusive end the strife between the American forces and the fierce Moro tribes which has been in progress nearly five years. At the war department it is stated that it is impossible to give accurately a list of the American troops participating.

CHILD'S LIFE WAS SAVED

Dr. J. W. Hornby's Four Year Old Son is Rescued From Canal by William Short.

William Short, an employee of the Grubb feed barn on South Fourth street, saved the life of the four year old son of Dr. J. W. Hornby, just as the little fellow was about to be drowned in the canal between Fourth and Fifth streets.

About 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon a party of youngsters, whose ages range from four to six years, were playing about the canal bank, having gotten away in spite of the care of their parents. It seems that two of the boys got to scuffling for the possession of a little shovel, when in some manner the little Hornby child fell into the canal.

Two or three persons beside the child witnessed the accident, but the first to jump into the canal and attempt to rescue the child was William Short, who happened to see him fall into the water. The boy was at once taken to his home by Mrs. John Goff, a neighbor, and cared for so that aside from a rather cold bath he was none the worse for his experience. Unfortunately the child's parents were away at the time and had left him in the care of a matron, in spite of whose watchfulness the little fellow got into the canal.

STATEHOOD BILL NOW UP FOR VOTE

It is Expected That Foraker's Amendment Will Pass by a Majority of From 8 to 12.

Washington, March 9.—When the Senate met at 11 o'clock this morning in recess session from yesterday, Beveridge, Indiana chairman of the committee on territories, continued his earnest advocacy of the joint statehood bill. Notwithstanding the early hour of meeting the public and private galleries were crowded and a large number of senators were in the chamber. The debate on the bill was closed and the legislative day of Friday was begun. The debate was then continued under the ten minute rule. Voting on the bill will begin at 4 o'clock. It is expected that Foraker's amendment providing for submission of the joint statehood plan for New Mexico and Arizona to a popular vote of those two territories will be adopted by a majority of between 8 to 12 votes.

INSURANCE STARS CLUSTERED ABOUT ALBANY CAPITOL

And Upon the Floor of the Assembly Told Why Bills Should Not Pass.

Albany, March 9.—The stars of the insurance world were clustered thickly about the State Capitol Friday, to oppose the remedial insurance bills that the Armstrong investigating committee framed, and wants made into law as a result of its investigation. Paul Morton, president of the Equitable, Charles A. Peabody of the Mutual, Alex. E. Orr of New York and former Lieut. Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, representing the Provident Life and others upon the floor of the assembly told the legislative committee Friday why most of the ten bills should not pass. In their walls were a hundred non-residents and actuaries and as many more agents.

"ALL IS VANITY" SAYS CARNEGIE

London, March 9.—Andrew Carnegie has written to a newspaper here declaring that the advantages of wealth are trifling. He says: "Beyond a competence for old age which need not be great and may be very small, wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness. Millonaires who laugh are rare."

Fine Shade Trees.

Now is the time for people to purchase shade trees for spring planting, which is at hand. Elegant, thrifty trees can be had at Mrs. Moreland's nursery, this city, which are much better for transplanting than those shipped from nurseries at a distance. All sizes and varieties at reduced prices. Fountaine A. Johnson, the gardener will attend to the transplanting. Address Mrs. Moreland, 275 Elmwood ave. Old phone Cherry 501. 9-24

LOST LEFT ARM IN EXPLOSION

Cantonburg, O., March 9.—While assisting the operators of a moving picture show, which was given here last evening, and working about an acetylene gas tank, light machine, Henry Evans, a well known resident of this place lost his left arm and sustained numerous other bad injuries, by the explosion of one of the tanks. Two of the operators were injured in the explosion, but not seriously.

Cockran's Resolution.

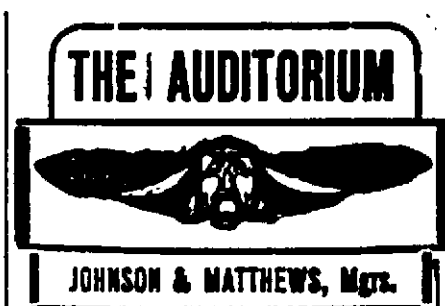

Washington, March 9.—Representative Boukie Cockran, New York, introduced a resolution requiring the postmaster general to report to the house whether Town Topics is admitted to the mails, and whether the government assists the publication in its "slandering occupation of extorting money by blackmail."

Headed Collision.

Lake Charles, La., March 9.—In a head-on collision between a Kansas City Southern passenger and a freight train at Bon Ann, Fireman Kit Wardell was instantly killed and Engineers Watson and Smith were probably fatally injured. An open switch caused the collision.

Standard Oil Men at White House. Washington, March 9.—H. H. Rogers and John D. Archbold, of New York, vice president of the Standard Oil company, were in conference with President Roosevelt at the white house. Neither of them would discuss the nature of their call.

Comfortable Old Age

Is not a question of years, but a question of vitality and the preservation of all faculties, either by natural or artificial means.

Whether young or old—for age is no criterion for the wearing of glasses—if you choose to go year after year wasting nerve force and straining your eyes thro' some defect, you must expect early decay—perhaps blindness—a natural decrease of vitality and consequent shortening of life.

Just think of it. We fit glasses for defective vision and eye-strain—that's all, but a little piece of glass will work wonders. And you can try them for ten days. "Pay when satisfied," is our motto.

GRANVILLE HAPPENINGS

Return of Delegates from Nashville. Prize Contest—Prof. Tight is Better—Debate.

Granville, March 9.—During the convention held in Nashville last week, five of the Granville visitors were entertained at the beautiful and hospitable home of Mrs. A. E. Baird, where they enjoyed the charming southern hospitality. Mrs. Baird was formerly Miss Eva Campbell, great granddaughter of the late Grove Case, Esq., of North street, and always spent her summers in Granville while her aged grandparents were living.

Prize contest for Granville high school students on Saturday, March 10, at the Granville opera house. Prof. Edward Amherst Ott will deliver his famous lecture "Sour Grapes." From the best synopsis written from memory by a high school student the lecture course committee will present an autograph copy of Ott's popular character novel, "Phillip Gerard."

Arrangements have been made between the two literary societies here at Denison and Franklin college of Franklin, Ind., for a debate to be held at Franklin about May 1. One debate will be held this year and one next. The one next year will be held at Granville.

The senior senior exhibition will take place next Tuesday evening in Recital hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. The following will participate: Misses Russell and Eleanor Thomas and Messrs. Burr, Hislop, Howell, Lloyd and Yale.

The Denison Glee Club composed of thirty voices, will sing at the Fifth street Baptist church in Newark on Sunday.

The regular services will be held in St. Luke's Episcopal church next Sunday at 3 p. m. The rector, Rev. L. P. Franklin will read the prayers, Sermon by the Right Rev. Bishop Boyd Vincent of Cincinnati. Music by Trinity church choir. The rite of confirmation will also be administered to a number of candidates.

Professor Tight, president of the University of New Mexico, written from Albuquerque to Mr. Russell Moore, that his health is greatly improved. He orders a barrel of Mr. Moore's famous maple syrup.

A social will be held at the Welch

Hill school house tonight for the benefit of the library. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend.

On Thursday evening Miss Jennie E. Blinn entertained very charmingly at the conservatory the young people of the college who with herself, went as delegates from Denison to the Students' Volunteer convention held at Nashville last week.

John Cheever, '05, who is attending the Rochester theological seminary was a guest at supper in the Sheperdson dining hall on Sunday evening.

On Friday evening of next week will occur the annual extra of the Lutheran literary society of Sheperdson college in Recital hall.

Rev. Mr. Dow of Chicago, led the chapel services at the college, on Thursday morning.

GRAND LARCENY

And Forgery Alleged in Indictments Against Insurance Men.

New York, March 9.—Indictments charging grand larceny in the first degree and forgery in the third degree by Frederick A. Burnham, president; G. D. Eldridge, first vice president, and George Burnham, Jr., second vice president, of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, were found by the grand jury. In all, five indictments were brought against each officer, two for grand larceny and three for forgery. The alleged larceny and forgery was brought about, according to the indictments, by payments of $9,000 of the company's money to law firms, the apparent purpose of which is alleged to have been to settle claims against the company, while the real object is alleged to have been to settle actions which had been brought against officers of the company as individuals.

Five Building Lots

Do you know that the most desirable residence section of Newark lies between North Williams street and Linden avenue on the Cassingham and Stump addition. Cement walks, graded street, good water, dry cellars. Five to ten minute walk to all West End factories. Within two squares of the Granville and city car lines. Had good success with this addition last year, several houses having been built. About 20 desirable lots left. Prospective buyers are invited to inspect this addition. C. E. Cochran, 666 W. THAT CONTRACT FOR IDLEWILDE CONTRACT IS NOT SIGNED YET

Park Management is Unreasonable in Its Demands and Baseball Company Commence Arrangements For New Grounds in Different Location--Weekday Games May Be Played at Y. M. C. A. Park.

In spite of the fact that the sport writer on another paper "exclusively predicted" that the lease for Idlewild park would be signed up last Saturday night, it is a week, the lease remains unsigned and President Joseph R. Moser stated to the Advocate that the matter had been settled and the street railway management was advised to seek milder claims or words to that effect. In plain English, the breach between the baseball company and the street car people is wider than ever and there is hardly any hope of settling the matter amicably.

The whole rupture is this. The street railway people state that the street car people and right there is

NEW YORK GIANTS IN PRACTICE WORK AT MEMPHIS, TENN.

Giants With their Push Ball

Memphis, Tenn., March 9.—The New York Giants played their first practice game of the season in their spring practice on Tuesday, the veteran team defeating the second nine by a score of 4 to 2. The "Reds" was the batting of Elliott of the second nine, who knocked the ball over the fence for a home run and also made a two bagger.

McGraw captured the losers and Bresnahan the winners. McGraw played shortstop until the fifth inning, when the score was 2 to 1 in favor of the second nine. He replaced Ferguson, who had been doing good work, but who found the strain too hard to continue. The manager of the world's champions was by no means so effective as his predecessor, but the veterans scored three runs before they were retired.

ball park was a losing proposition last season, that they lost $100. This, however, they claim was partially regained by the big increase in the street car patronage because of the ball games. The baseball people then wanted to take the park off the hands of the park management and put a vast amount of improvement on the grounds, remove the trees if possible, move the fences back, further and extend the grand stand thirty feet on each end. All this would be done without cost to the park management and they would of course receive no compensation for the use of the grounds, other than the increase in traffic. They turned up their noses at this proposition, saying that they wanted to protect their investment.

They submitted a contract to the baseball people at a meeting held on where they were told to seek a change of climate.

The baseball people are figuring on a new plan. A piece of ground will be leased just outside the city on the B. & O. road, where the Sunday games will be played. It is planned to run a train from the B. & O. station to the ball ground, the fare to be five cents or ten cents for the round trip. This will take the patronage away from the street car company as their lines will not run within a half mile of the ball park. The two day games will be played within the city limits, probably at the Y. M. C. A. athletic field. In case this ground is leased, vast improvements will be made in the ground. There will be considerable filling done and a new grand stand and bleachers constructed.

The Newark fans are disgusted with the "dilly dallying" of the street car people and the baseball company and there is considerable feeling against the park management for their stand in the matter. At Mansfield the street car people are assisting in building the grand stand and getting the grounds into shape. At New Castle, Pa., the street car people give the ball club the free use of Cascade park. They get special street car service. Transportation for the players, free police service and excursion service between the small cities and the ball park. The ball club is compelled to pay nothing for this kind of a deal.

There is one thing certain. Whatever is done, must be done immediately. There is no time for argument either one way or the other. If a new ball ground is to be located it should be done at once so the workmen can begin at once. There is no time to lose. The players will be returning in another thirty days and there will be no place for them to play.

The baseball company is open to ensure because of this delay and the street car people are due for a roast from the fans because they are attempting to hold up the baseball company for a big rental fee for Idlewild park. This they will get from the fans when the ball season opens.

Pitcher Bates May Sign.

Pitcher Bates the man whom Danny Jones wanted the Newark management to sign for an "old boss" may yet sign a Newark contract. He has agreed to meet the local magnates to discuss the job. One of the local stockholders stated that Bates talked like a good man and inasmuch as good Columbus players highly recommend him, there is a possibility that he may be signed.

Peggy Moore Quits.

Frank J. Moore the Chillicothe pitcher, better known as Peggy, has flown from the Newark coop and is basking under the Southern skies. The Newark management received a letter from him saying that he had signed with the Greenville team of the Texas league and that he would leave at once for that city. This was on the 6th, so Peggy has been warming up down in the land where long horned steers frisk about the outfield. The Newark people are real out of patience with Peggy and say he must return to the fold or they will put the "skidoo" tag on him and he can't play in organized baseball. Moore is a youngster and does not know any better.

MILLIONS LOST IN PACKED EGGS

They Were Bought Last Winter at 17 Cents, and Open Winter Has Caused Decline.

Chicago, March 9.—Stockyards packers deny reports in circulation in La Salle street that the open winter has caused them a loss of $2,500,000 in storage eggs. Experts are quoted, however, as stating that they stand to lose $350,000 as the result of the unprecedentedly open winter season. Eggs in storage since last winter were bought by the packing firm from 17 to 21 cents a dozen. The price reached a minimum of 7 cents last week. Storage eggs are not now on the market.

Quantities of them were left on the hands of the packers with the close of the storage egg season. The leftovers will not be a total loss. They will be sold to desiccating plants and to tanneries.

One million cases of eggs were packed last year. It is estimated. The loss to the trade, when the slump in prices came, was enormous. The packers are said to have stored only 150,000 cases.

Paymaster Attacked.
New York, March 9.—Win A. Mallaney, a paymaster for Post & McCord, one of the buildings the firm is erecting with non-union iron workers, was burned and cut when a man whom he says he recognized as a striker, threw a bottle filled with ammonia in his face. Mallaney fell to the ground, but as he did so pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired to attract help. A policeman and several hundred men and boys started in pursuit of the fleeing assailant who was finally captured. He refused to give his name.

NEWARK GETS GOOD DATES

In Schedule Arranged for O. and P. League

SEASON OPENS HERE APRIL 28

NEWARK PLAYS AT HOME ON MAY 30 AND LABOR DAY

Season Closes In This City Sept. 24—Sharon and New Castle Dismissed With Their Dates.

Akron, O., March 9.—After a session from Wednesday evening until Thursday afternoon, the members of the Ohio & Pennsylvania league succeeded in adopting a schedule. The schedule committee, composed of Frank Cook of Youngstown, W. E. Palmer of Akron, and W. O. Anderson of Zanesville, are being praised for arranging a schedule that would please even a majority.

In forming this schedule the committee had to consider the fact that only four of the teams were in Sunday baseball towns and to overcome other obstacles.

The season will open on Saturday, April 28, in four lower towns—Akron at Lancaster, Youngstown at Mansfield, Sharon at Newark, and New Castle at Zanesville. The northern section tour the southern towns for two weeks and then return home, opening up their own diamonds, May 8, as follows:

Zanesville at Akron, Lancaster at New Castle, Newark at Youngstown and Mansfield at Sharon.

The season will end September 20, but one or two of the teams will finish their schedules earlier, unless in case of postponed games. For instance, Newark's season closes Sept. 24, while Sharon's closes Sept. 25, and that of Newark and Lancaster ends on September 26. Lancaster finishes at home even earlier.

Newark at Home.

With Sharon—April 28, 29; June 16, 17; July 15, 16; August 5, 6, 24, September 9.

Youngstown—April 30; May 1, 27; June 12, 13; July 21, 22; August 21, 22.

New Castle—May 2, 20; June 10, 11; July 1, 2, 19, 20; Aug. 25, 26.

Akron—May 4, 5, 6; June 14, 15; July 17, 18; August 19, 20; Sept. 11.

Mansfield—May 21, 22, 23; June 3, 4, 5; Aug. 12, 13; Sept. 3 (Labor Day).

Zanesville—May 30 (morning); June 9, 9; Aug. 9, 10, 11, 31; September 1, 2.

Lancaster—June 6, 7; July 5, 6, 7; Aug. 14, 15, 16; Sept. 6, 24.

Newark Abroad.

At Youngstown—May 8, 9; June 21, 22, 23; July 31, Aug. 1, 2; Sept. 15 (two games).

At Akron—May 11, 12; June 19, 20; July 4 (2 games); Aug. 3, 4; Sept. 12, 13.

At Zanesville—May 13, 30 (afternoon); July 8, 9, 16; Sept. 7, 16, 26.

At Sharon—May 14, 15, 16; June 28, 29, 30; July 24, 25, 26; Sept. 18, 19.

At New Castle—May 17, 18, 19; June 25, 26, 27; July 27, 28, 30; Sept. 19.

At Mansfield—May 24, 25, 26; June 24; July 14; Sept. 2, 4, 5, 17, 29.

DENISON SCHEDULE.

The Denison baseball schedule for the coming spring was announced today by Manager Pease. It includes 12 games at home and 10 away, with one open date for commencement week which will be filled later on by some Ohio college team and is as follows:

April 7—Mutes at Granville.

April 14—O. M. U. at Granville.

April 21—Muskingum at New Concord.

April 27—Newark at Newark.

April 28—Oberlin at Granville.

May 5—Bethany at Granville.

May 7—Heidelberg at Granville.

May 12—Wooster at Wooster.

May 25—Western Reserve at Granville.

May 26—Wittenberg at Granville.

May 29—University of West Virginia at Morgantown.

May 30—University of West Virginia at Morgantown. (2 games.)

June 2—Wooster at Granville.

June 8—Kenyon at Granville.

June 9—National Cash Register at Dayton.

June 11—Alumni at Granville.
June 12—O. M. U. at Granville.
June 15—Ohio Wesleyan at Granville.

MEANS BETTER RESERVOIRS

Senate Passes Sites Bill Providing That Fees for Privileges Should be Used for Improvements.

Local people who own cottages at Buckeye Lake, and particularly the yachtmen, will be pleased at the action of the senate Wednesday in passing without opposition the Sites bill, providing that all funds collected as fees for privileges upon any of the Ohio reservoirs used as pleasure resorts shall be available for and in the improvement of such water resorts. Water rentals alone are excepted.

This will insure material improvement each year, as the privilege fees are constantly growing at these places as the patronage and popularity increases.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil of sunshine—and of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vasoline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herplade destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

MERCURY MAKES WRECKS NOT CURES

Thousands who have had their health ruined by Mercury testify that it makes wrecks instead of cures in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison. While it may mask the disease in the system for awhile, when the treatment is left off the trouble returns with renewed violence, combined with the disastrous effects of this powerful mineral. Mercury, and Potash, which is also a common treatment for Contagious Blood Poison, eat out the lining of the stomach and bowels, produce chronic dyspepsia, cause the teeth to decay, make spongy, tender gums, affect the bones and muscles, and leave its victims complete physical wrecks. Another effect of this treatment is mercurial rheumatism, the worst and most hopeless form of this disease. There is but one certain, reliable antidote for this destructive poison, and that is S. S. S. It is the only medicine that is able to go into the blood and cure the disease permanently. S. S. S. does not take or cover up anything, but so completely drives out the poison that no signs of it are ever seen again. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and while curing Contagious Blood Poison, will drive out the effects of any mineral treatment. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice wished furnished without charge.

Bowser Shows His Authority

He Undertakes to Make His Neighbors Clean the Snow Off Their Walks.

IS MET WITH OPPOSITION

Overpowered at Last by the Denizens at the Suburb and Dumped Into a Snowdrift.

[Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.]
It had been snowing all day long, and when Mr. Bowser reached home at 6 o'clock in the evening the beautiful was nearly a foot deep on street and sidewalk.
"Well, this has been a storm," said Mrs. Bowser by way of salutation.
"Yes, I am glad of it. I have been waiting for just such an opportunity," "How do you mean?"
"There isn't a sidewalk cleared between this house and the corner. There won't be for two days. It was so all last winter. As soon as I can swallow my dinner I shall clear our own walk, and then I will try to find out whether we have laws and ordinances in this town. I think I'll astonish some folks within the next two hours."
"If you will leave the walk until morning I'll hire a couple of boys to clean it off. If you go out there and work for an hour you'll be all bungled up."
"The walk will be cleaned tonight," said Mr. Bowser in aggressive tones.

MR. BOWSER WAS A HUSTLER.

"not only our walk, but those of our neighbors. I haven't got so superannuated that I can't do half an hour's work with a snow shovel without its bungling me up."
Mrs. Bowser was no more until they were half through dinner. Then she observed:
"No one begins cleaning off his walk until it stops snowing."
"It was beginning to let up when I came in," replied Mr. Bowser.
"Aren't you afraid that working with the snow shovel will give you a lame back?"
"Look here, woman, can't you let a matter rest? I told you when I first came in that I was going to clean our walk. When our walk is cleaned I am going to make it my business to find out why other folks don't clean theirs. Nothing you can say or do will prevent me."
"But how can you boss other folks around?"
"Wait and see. There is an ordinance that says the walks shall be kept clear of snow. I obey it. I will see that others obey it."
"And raise a row and have your name in the papers again?"
"I don't care 2 cents for all the papers in the United States. If I have to obey the snow ordinance, other folks shall too. Last winter, when folks I walk around us were cleared, a great big fat policeman came along and threatened to have me in court because about a shovelful of snow remained on ours. Let the discussion end right here."

It did. He went upstairs and got on an old suit and then armed himself with the snow shovel and began work. The storm had almost ceased, and three or four householders on the other side of the street were also seizing the opportunity. Mr. Bowser was a hustler with the snow shovel, and at the end of three-quarters of an hour he struck hard pan all along the walk. He was so puffed up with his enterprise by the few pedestrians abroad, but he was grimly silent. When his labors were finished he stuck his shovel into the snow and walked through the gate of the next house on his right and up the steps. It was a new family, and he didn't even know the name. His ring at the bell was answered by a little man of peppery look, who saluted:
"Well, sir, what is it?"
"I have a sidewalk out here," replied Mr. Bowser.
"And what of it?"
"It is covered with a foot of snow." "Any fool can see that."
"The ordinance says you shall clean it off."
"The ordinance be hanged! Who are you, sir, that you come here and tell me what I must do?"
"My name is Bowser, and I live next door. I have just cleaned my walk, and dog my cats if I'm going to walk through your snow because you are too lazy to clean it off. You either get out here with a shovel and bump yourself or I'll have you in court tomorrow."

"What? What's that?" shouted the peppery little man as he danced around. "You dare to come here and threaten me? Off my steps and out of my yard, you old boy, or I'll give you the boot!"
Mr. Bowser went. He knew that he could chew the little man up in two minutes, but he also realized that a row so near home would bring out Mrs. Bowser and the cat. He left the yard and entered that of the people on the left. He knew that their name was Blunt, but he didn't know much else about them. It was Mrs. Blunt who answered his ring.
"Madam, is your husband home?" was asked.
"What's that to you?" was the reply. "My husband's gone to collect a bill, and I am not a detective looking to arrest him."
"And do you mean to insult us?" she demanded as she looked around for a broomstick.
"By no means. I simply wanted to ask your husband when he was going to clean the snow off his sidewalk."
"Oh, I see. And is that any of your business? Do you think that we are idiots or children that we can't attend to our own affairs? If my husband was home he'd give you a lift into the street."
"If your husband was home I'd tell him a thing or two," said Mr. Bowser. "The idea that!"
"But the idea didn't pan out. The door was slammed against his toes, and he had to turn and descend the steps. He knew the second house on his left to be occupied by a family named Holt. The husband was cross eyed and the wife red headed, but Mr. Bowser did not take these things into consideration. Mrs. Bowser and the cat appeared at his own door, and Mrs. Bowser called to him that she smelled smoke in the house and wanted him to come home and look around for fire, but he waved her away and proceeded to make his third call. The man and his wife had just been having a hot dispute as to whether the earth was round or flat, and they both answered the door in hopes that it was a tramp whom they could kick.

"Well?" queried the Holt family as Mr. Bowser entered the hall.
"Did you know that it had been snowing all day?" he asked in reply.
"Certainly."
"And that there is a foot of snow on your walk?"
"Sure, Mike."
"And that it is your duty under the ordinance to clear it off?"
"Not by a darned sight! If our snow bothers you clear it off yourself."
"Do you mean to say that you will let it lie there for the next three or four days?"
"We do. It can lie there for the next three or four years."
"By thunder, but it won't!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he turned away. "You either get out with your shovel within fifteen minutes or I'll have you hauled into court and smartly fined."

He was told to go to that land where snow melts as fast as it falls, and he waded down the steps and out of the yard. Mrs. Bowser made another effort. She said she thought the gas meter was out of order and all the water pipes busted and that if he didn't attend to things right away there would be an awful tragedy, but Mr. Bowser couldn't be turned from the path of duty.
He was standing at his own gate and drawing a long breath for another call when the peppery little man and his wife rushed out from one side and the cross eyed man and his red headed wife from the other, and at the same time two men pedestrians came along. It wasn't a conspiracy nor a put up job, but all jumped on Mr. Bowser at once. He fought gamely, but he was overpowered. He was lifted up and driven head first into a snowdrift, and one of the men seized the shovel and added more snow while the others packed it down. It was ten minutes after they disappeared before the buried man resurfaced himself and entered his own house.

"Well, what about the ordinance?" asked Mrs. Bowser.
"Not a word from you—not a single word!" he whispered as he pointed a finger at her. "I see your big Italian hand in this, and I know my remedy. Tomorrow morning, woman—tomorrow morning we consult our respective lawyers and you go home to your mother!"

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Dog Who Had His Day

Mr. Hoss and Beedle Dog were great cronies. One never saw them separated. They both belonged to an old farmer named Screw, who was very appropriately named, so they both thought, as he got all he could out of every one and spared none.
He was especially hard on Mr. Hoss, whom he forced to work all day in the hot sun and beat and kicked him sadly when he lagged.
"It's a shame," whined Beedle Dog as he went into Mr. Hoss' stall for the night. "He makes you work too hard. He's a cruel old tike."
"Well, you see," said the horse, "he doesn't understand. He never has to pull a heavy cart, and he doesn't know how we suffer."
"Better teach him, then," said Beedle curiously. "I always believe in giving folks all the information they need."
"How are you going to do it?" queried the horse, munching a mouthful.
"I'll tell you. Tomorrow when he lets you out you make tracks down the road when he isn't looking. Hide in the grove a mile down the road and leave the rest to me."

BATHER WARM.

When Mr. Screw came to look for Mr. Hoss next day he was gone.
"Wonder where in the name of sense he went to now?" he growled.
"I know," spoke up Beedle. "He's sick down the road yonder—awful sick; worked too hard. Guess he'll die."
"How do you know, you brute?"
"Saw him," said Beedle. "Better get your wagon and go down and get him, or you'll have a funeral."
"How'm I to get it down there?"
"Pull it, I guess. Walking's good."
So off they set, Beedle heading at a rapid pace and poor Mr. Screw pulling hard between the shafts.
"My, it's hot!" said Screw.
"Rather warm," said Beedle.
"Heavy as lead," said Screw.
"Rather weighty," laughed Beedle. Soon they came to Mr. Hoss. Mr. Screw was played out.
"Feel better?" said Beedle.
"Yes. I'll pull home," the horse replied.
As they went down the road Beedle said:
"Guess he knows now."—Atlanta Constitution.

NOT SO BADLY MADE AFTER ALL

One day the giraffe and the elephant met on a plain by the side of the river Nile.
"I agree with you," said the giraffe hotly. "We were made to be perfect sights. Why, in the name of goodness, were we not made better looking? I can't for the life of me see. Look at my rubber neck. It's so long and ugly that I feel uneasy whenever I go out in society. Why, I can't find a place in all Egypt where I can get a collar to fit me, and even if I could I could not get money enough together to pay for having it washed!"
"True, true," said the elephant sadly. "And just look what a sight I am. It's bad enough to be covered with a hide

"I GUESS WE WERE NOT MADE SO BADLY" like leather, all wrinkled and ugly, without having to have a tail put on my front end as well as my rear."
"I don't see," cried the elephant, "what's the matter with you. Why 'they ever made us such frights'?"
But just then it was dinner time, and both were hungry.
Mr. Giraffe reached gracefully up with his long neck and took a mouthful of sweet palm fronds.
"Couldn't have done that without your neck," said Mr. Elephant.
Then he reached down and got a good wisp of rich grass and put it into his little mouth.
"Couldn't have done that without your trunk," said the giraffe.
"True," said the elephant. "I guess we weren't made so badly after all."—Detroit Journal.

ORDINANCE NO. 1

Granting leave and permission to the Newark, Martinsburg, and Mt. Vernon Traction Company to construct, maintain and operate a street railway, over, along and upon certain streets in the city of Newark, State of Ohio.

Whereas, on the 20th day of October, 1905, the Newark, Martinsburg, and Mt. Vernon Traction Company made application in writing to the Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, for the right to construct, maintain and operate a street railway, over, along and upon certain streets in the City of Newark, State of Ohio, hereinafter specially set forth, and

Whereas, on the 20th day of October, 1905, a resolution was passed establishing a street railway route over such streets and notice of such application was duly published according to law, and

And Mt. Vernon Traction Company has paid rates of fare which are the lowest rates and has previously established the written cost of a major portion of the property to be used in the line of said street railway, and

Now, Therefore, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, That the Newark, Martinsburg, and Mt. Vernon Traction Company, its successors or assigns, be and they are hereby granted permission to construct, maintain and operate a street railway, over, along and upon certain streets in the City of Newark, Ohio, as follows: Beginning at the intersection of East Church street with the North Fork of the Delaware River, and running west on Church street to First street, thence south on First street to East Main street, thence west on East Main street to Second street, thence south on Second street to Franklin street, thence east on Franklin street to First street, thence north on First street to East Main street, and thence east on East Main street to the North Fork of the Delaware River, and

It is provided, however, that the said Newark, Martinsburg, and Mt. Vernon Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall not lay or construct any track on East Main street or on Second street between East Main street and South Park Place, but if said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall obtain its right of way on the said streets for such track, over the tracks already constructed.

It is further provided that the said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall not lay or construct any track on Church street or on First street, but if said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall obtain its right of way on the said streets for such track, over the tracks already constructed.

It is further provided that the said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall not lay or construct any track on East Main street or on Second street between East Main street and South Park Place, but if said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall obtain its right of way on the said streets for such track, over the tracks already constructed.

It is further provided that the said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall not lay or construct any track on Church street or on First street, but if said Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall obtain its right of way on the said streets for such track, over the tracks already constructed.

the car while in motion. The cars shall always be entitled to the track and the drivers on any vehicles obstructing the said street shall be liable for the damage done by the obstruction of the track. It shall be the duty of the driver of any car or vehicle to stop when requested or who shall in any manner unnecessarily obstruct or interfere with the progress of the cars of said street railway, or destroy the track of said road, or cars or any other property of the said Company, its successors and assigns, shall upon conviction thereof be liable to the Mayor or police court of said city, to be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars, or to imprisonment in the city jail for a term not exceeding thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 11. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force as soon as the said Newark, Martinsburg, and Mt. Vernon Traction Company, its successors or assigns, shall file with the Clerk of the City of Newark, Ohio, a copy of the same, and shall be in force from and after the passage of this ordinance.

When They Love You So.

ONE time I'm awful sick in bed, An' sometimes I'm delirious, 'Cuz I got fever in my head, An' when I'm most serious My pa, he sits beside of me, An' 'en he rubs my head, an' 'en He says when I get well, why, he Won't ever scold his boy again.

An' 'en my ma, she rubs my head, 'Ist burnin' hot, an' 'en her chin 'Ist quivers an' she says, 'Poor Ned' His little hands so white an' thin' An' 'en she says she never know How precious 'Ist a boy could be, An' when I'm well she goes in to do 'Ist what I want her to for me.

An' 'en by an' by my ma comes An' says when I get well, why, she Don't care if I have twenty drums, An' she will buy a gold for me An' my big sister, she says, 'I buy A really pretty, 'Ist is quick As ever doctor says at it, An' well again in from him sick.

An' even our old hired man Comes in an' sits awhile with me When ever doctor says he can 'Ist kind an' gentle as can be, 'Cuz once he had a boy, an' 'en He had the fever, an' 'en why He was awful kind to me, 'en when He sees me, why, he starts to cry.

An' even teacher comes to see, An' on her way from school in 'en She says it won't be hard for me When I come back to school again 'Cuz she won't make my lessons long Or keep me after school, an' 'en 'Ist wants me to get well an' strong, An' 'en she stoops an' kisses me.

An' 'at's 'en you really know, How much they love you, when your head 'Ist burnin' up, an' you can't go Nowhere except to stay in bed, An' even if you're awful bad An' 'Ist with fever, why, you know It makes you feel 'Ist sweet an' glad 'Cuz they all 'Ist love you so— J. W. Foley in New York Times

Packing the House.

"One of the worst breaks I ever made," said the theatrical manager, "was in the course of a tour with a particularly successful attraction in the far west. In a hotel I met an influential citizen who was good to me, and before we parted I had asked him to come to the show and to bring his family and I'd see that they were treated right."

"About 8 o'clock the next evening his head appeared at the box office window. 'Good evening; glad to see you,' said I, preparing to write out the pass. 'How many have you with you?'"

"Well," said he, "some of my family are sick, so I've brought only forty-two."

His Maiden Speech.

Very few persons acquit themselves nobly in their maiden speech. At a wedding feast recently the bridegroom was called upon as usual, to respond to the given toast in spite of the fact that he had previously pleaded to be excused.

Blushing to the roots of his hair, he rose to his feet. He intended to imply that he was unprepared for speech making, but, unfortunately, placed his hand upon the bride's shoulder and looked down at her as he stammered out his opening and concluding words.

Dorothy's View of Shaving.

Dorothy is a tiny maid of four years whose father always gets shaved at the barber's. When on a visit recently she found an uncle who shaved himself. She watched this performance with intense but silent astonishment for two or three mornings, but finally broke out with: "What makes you do that, Uncle Will? My papa doesn't wash his face with a little lather and wipe it with a knife!"—New York Press.

The Real Complaint.

Customer (trying to get waited on at night lunch counters)—Here, boy! The best thing you can do is to go to bed. If the waiter—Oh, it don't hurt me to lose sleep.

Customer—No, I suppose not. But the thing I'm objecting to is if it you don't seem to be losing any.—Judge.

Their Views.

PERSISTENT BUT HE DIDN'T WIN.

"I beg your pardon, miss, but didn't you advertise for a husband?" he inquired as he met the Lady of the House.

"I did not," she snapped in a voice that would have turned nectar into vinegar.

"Because if you did," he resumed, "I would like you to consider me as an applicant. I am."

"I am already married," she said, "and if I were not I wouldn't."

"Don't be too hasty, madam," he interrupted. "It is too bad that you are married, because you are pleasing to the eye and I have no doubt that you possess wonderful charms of mind and character. I am sure you can cook, darn socks, sweep and dust, mind the baby, milk the cows, make a garden, play on a tame phonograph, wind the clock, harness the horse and do other necessary household stunts. Now if you will get a divorce."

"I don't want a divorce."

"Certainly not, madam. If you did you would be advertising for one in the Want Columns of the Newark Advocate. You naturally prefer that your husband should depart decently and certainly before you talk matrimony with me. Now if you will only advertise."

"I will advertise for a dog and when I get one sick him on you if you don't mosey along," she said.

"I am glad she didn't advertise for a husband," he muttered as he turned away. "I would hate to marry a woman with such a temper."

CONTRACT LET FOR "SHERWOOD"

THE NEW FOUR STORY FLAT BUILDING TO BE ERECTED THIS SPRING.

The Estimated Cost is $25,000 and Every Detail of Construction Will be Modern.

The Sherwood Improvement company, in the contest between numerous architects for drafting the plans for the new Sherwood apartment house to be built at the corner of First and Main streets, awarded the contract to Architect J. P. Taylor of Zanesville. Mr. Taylor thoroughly understands his work, as was evidenced in his design of the Jutlow on West Locust street.

The new Sherwood is estimated to cost $25,000 and will be the most structure of the kind built in Newark. It will be four stories high with a very high basement, making it practically a four and a half or five story building.

It will be constructed on the east side of the property a short distance from East Main street, and having a 50 foot lawn along the entire first street side, making a beautiful and attractive effect.

The structure will have suites containing various numbers of rooms, two of these suites however will be arranged for the convenience of doctors. The entire interior will be finished in oak, and so arranged that it will present a strikingly handsome appearance. The basement which will extend under the entire building will contain an immense dining hall, for the accommodation of the tenants, also a large drawing room to be used in common by all the tenants who so desire. The room will be elegantly furnished and arranged wholly for the comfort of the occupants.

The plumbing and other parts of the construction will be carefully done so that the many inconveniences so often noticed in the ordinary flat, will be avoided.

The structure will be wholly of pressed brick, the work on it will begin about April 1, and the building will probably be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1. The company will call for bids on next Monday.

THE CITY PAID FOR THE SHINE

The Streets Were Muddy and Clarence Willard Made Toledo Stand for His Costs.

Toledo, O., March 9.—Wind abeam and every inch of canvas drawing beautifully, Clarence Willard, former president of the Toledo Council, tacked into the city hall Thursday, looking like the bottom of a street cleaning wagon. In making a landing from a street car he had jibed into the mud. He wanted an order for 10 cents to get cleaned up because of the dirty streets. This was refused, so he left.

A few moments later the city hall boot black, "Dusty" ambled to Mayor White with an order for 10 cents for cleaning Willard's shoes. The negro was sent to the solicitor to see if the order was legally prepared.

After being piloted against every officer in the city hall, President Sablin, of the service board, paid the order, and Willard, rolling magnificently, stood in the doorway and howled.

HERR MOST

Is in Pittsburg, and the Police There Associate the Anarchist With the Black Hand.

Pittsburg, March 9.—Registered under the name of Millard in an obscure hotel, Johann Most is in Pittsburg, and says he has come to watch the progress of the negotiations between miners and operators.

Accompanying a recent Black Hand letter to ex-Mayor Black of McKeesport, was the significant statement that 150 Anarchists from Paterson, N. J., and other eastern points, had come to Pittsburg to begin operations. It is the belief of the Pittsburg police that Most is here to direct the operations of this gang, and he is being closely watched.

Former Mayor R. J. Black of McKeesport, yesterday received a second letter from the Black Hand society, threatening to kill him if he failed to comply with the demand that he place $2,000 in the stamp of a hollow tree in Curry's Hollow. Police are guarding his residence.

SCHWAB NOT ILL

Steel Magnate Was in Good Health When He Left St. Louis for New York Friday

St. Louis, March 9.—Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate who contrary to western dispatches, has not been ill, paid $125 in railroad fare to New York for his private car party Friday. The rumors concerning Mr. Schwab's serious illness are said to have originated from the fact that the party did not stop at an El Paso hotel as had been intended.

One of Schwab's servants said Friday at the Union station that the steel magnate is entirely well. Before leaving Kansas City Thursday night he walked around the station. Coming to St. Louis Thursday night he played cards.

Schwab and party were brought in by the Alton Burlington combination train and arrived here at 7:02 a. m. Friday and left attached to a Big Four train at 8:17. They will arrive in New York at 2:55 p. m. Saturday. Schwab will remain in New York Sunday and Monday, and on Tuesday will go to Atlantic City, N. J., to join Mrs. Schwab.

ATTEMPTS MURDER THEN SUICIDE

UNITED STATES SOLDIER COM-MITS TERRIBLE CRIME IN CINCINNATI.

A Note Was Found Addressed to His Mother in Which He Foretold His Deed.

Cincinnati, O., March 9.—After trying to murder a woman because she would not marry him Dennis Kleevers, a soldier, cut his throat and was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. Kleevers, whose home is in Buffalo, N. Y., is a member of the Fourth Infantry, and is on a three months furlough.

Since his arrival here on February 9, he has been stopping at the home of Mrs. Lucille Bedolt. He wanted to marry her and about 2 o'clock this morning he again asked her to become his wife and when she refused threw her to the floor and attempted to cut her throat. During the struggle he drew the razor across her neck, hands and body.

When he saw the blood spurt from her wounds he released his hold on her and then drew the razor across his own throat, inflicting a wound which the hospital physicians say will cause his death. That Kleevers contemplated ending his life is shown by a note addressed to his mother, Mrs. Louise Kleevers of 23 Potter street, Buffalo. In it he said he would kill a certain person and then end his life at 2 o'clock in the morning.

SAID SHE WAS NEVER KISSED

Nor Did She Ever Kiss the Husband to Whom She Had Been Married 27 Years.

Newark, N. J., March 9.—"No, I was never kissed by a man in my life, and I never kissed a man, not even my husband," said Mrs. Elvira Liebe during the trial of her husband's suit for divorce before Vice Chancellor Emery.

"You say you were never kissed?" she was asked.

"That's a fact. Even during our courtship I never kissed my husband and he never kissed me."

Mrs. Liebe is the wife of Henry Lieb of Brooklyn. They have five children and have been married 27 years. The couple have been separated 16 years and have not met during that time until yesterday when they faced each other in court.

Mrs. Liebe, who was Miss Newall, said her mother was a niece of the late Peter Bullentine, a Newark brewer. Her husband owns some valuable property in Newark. During the divorce suit Charles Sheridan was accused of being friendly with her, and the statement that she had never been kissed was the answer to the charge.

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep."

ACCUSED MAID

(Continued from Page 1.) ence, with growing excitement. "Mrs. Eames said she was an expert musician. That is false. All she can play is the scales. I will swear to that before this is over I will be justified or I will have her arrested for perjury."

Attorney McNabb took up his cross examination by questioning Mrs. Eames closely regarding her acquaintance with E. A. Conday, Harry Graham and others, who are said to have been frequent visitors at the Eames home and whose appearance was said to be the signal for "kimono jigs," gin fizzes, champagne and wild revelries. Mrs. Eames again related her version.

"After a dinner at the Auditorium Mr. Scatterdell, Miss Fargo and I rode home in a cab. Mr. Scatterdell slept on the couch in the den and I slept in my own room."

"Where was your husband?" "He had telegraphed me that he was in St. Louis and would be home the next day, but he has sent so many bogus telegrams in the course of our married life that I could not say where he was."

Attorney Caldwell in his address to the jury, flayed Eames and the story told by his witnesses. "Unowned King of the Jeeves," was one of the mildest terms applied to the wealthy complainant.
